DECARBONIZATION FEATURE

The oil and gas industry is being challenged to meet the increased need for energy while simultaneously reducing overall emissions. Industry needs to build an actionable emissions reduction road map that links decarbonization to strategy, identifies where efficiency gains can be made, factor emissions reduction into operational planning and builds a culture focused on decarbonization for the future.

The Decarbonization Feature program will witness a variety of presentations, success stories and case studies all tackling the challenge of accomplishing decarbonization objectives in Egypt's oil and gas sector.
